Winter Carnival

1:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m., Sunday, January 30th
Westboro Beach

Despite the very cold and very windy day last year, it was so much fun that the carnival is back again in 2011 bigger and better than ever.

The tobogganing, hot chocolate and the bonfire (a definite must to keep us warm) will be back. Kids, and adults too, may like to test their creativity on snowman building or snow sculpting and colouring.

For the colouring activity we will need empty spray bottles. If you have any, please drop them off on the front porch of 272 Atlantis Avenue. On January 30, they will be filled with coloured water for kids to paint the snow sculptures a kaleidoscope of colours.

Don't forget check the website: www.westborobeach.org, and help us with the events if you can. Thanks and hope to see you at the events.
